Encapsulation: means wrapping data and methods together inside a class and restricting direct access to the data. For example instagram can keep user information private and allow it to be changed through specific methods.

Abstraction: means hiding unnecessary internal details and showing only the important features to the user. For example, on Instagram, we simplty press the post button without knowing all the internal code used to upload and process the post..